Overview

Beth Chapman is a litigation paralegal who supports attorneys and clients in complex civil litigation matters. She assists with business and commercial litigation, professional liability defense, and liability defense matters, including passenger vehicle and commercial transportation accidents. Beth helps manage matters through all stages of litigation, from discovery and case organization through summary judgment, mediation, arbitration, trial preparation, and resolution.

Beth has significant experience coordinating discovery, organizing large volumes of case materials, and working with litigation technology to support efficient case preparation. She is a LAW Certified User and is skilled in Relativity, OnCue, Ipro, Summation, and TrialDirector, which allows her to search, sort, analyze, and manage large databases throughout litigation and trial. Organized, responsive, and detail-oriented, Beth helps litigation teams stay focused, prepared, and positioned to serve clients effectively.
