Overview

Kristian Weir is a seasoned litigator and former federal prosecutor. His experience in dozens of jury trials provides a practical, strategic perspective to complex disputes and investigations. Most recently, Kristian served as the head of the Criminal Division of the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Minnesota, where he oversaw all criminal investigations and prosecutions within the district.

Kristian's experience building cases for trial and his years working with government investigators provides valuable insight for businesses and individuals facing complex business litigation, government investigations or enforcement, employment and labor disputes, internal investigations, and any matter where litigation, regulatory, or reputational risk intersect.
